BRITISH LORDS IN WAR OF WORDS ON NEUTRAL RIGHT

Earl of Portsmouth Proposes Return to Old Method

WOULD RULE SEA BY FORCE

Former Ambassador Bryce Stands for Fairness to Neutrals and Says It Is Better Way.

London, Dec. 2.—"The declaration of London has no international validity and the adoption of the declaration by an order in council does not involve the creation of an international tribunal," said the Marquis of Lansdowne, minister without portfolio in the British cabinet, in answer to a series of questions put by the Earl of Portsmouth in the House of Lords at London yesterday. "We have adopted the declaration of London only with very considerable and important modifications, and we adopted it only partially and for the guidance of our own courts."

The earl of Portsmouth's questions were submitted with a view to eliciting the exact position of Great Britain with regard to the declaration of London and the setting at rest or confirming the reports that Lord Reading had made an arrangement with the United States government for the reference of claims to an international tribunal after the war.

On the latter point the marquis of Lansdowne referred to the communication of Sir Edward Grey, the foreign secretary, on July 21 stating that it was open to Washington to claim that disputes in regard to the decisions of prize courts should be submitted for review by an international tribunal, and remarked that Sir Edward Grey's statement only committed Great Britain to a resort to arbitration as a proper means for the liquidation of disputes as provided in the arbitration treaty concluded with the United States last year.

During the discussion the earl of Portsmouth asked: "If the declaration of London is not in force, why, in heaven's name could we not fall back on the old sea laws of our ancestors, which gave them victory?" And he added: "The country wants to get rid of all this rubbish—the declaration of London and the Hague convention. We want to sweep away all judicial niceties and win this war by placing British interests and the interests of our allies as the only interests, first and supreme."

Viscount Bryce, the former ambassador at Washington, pointed out that England already had agreed with the United States to submit questions such as those raised to arbitration, and it was therefore superfluous to inquire whether any recent assurance of this nature had been given. While England was entitled to press to the utmost against belligerents all the rights which international law allowed her, he contended that she could not ignore the rights of neutrals. The country might easily lose a great deal more than it could possibly gain by pressing them to the furthest point, which might involve the greatest injury to neutral countries.

A great deal of the fabric of international law had been shattered, and the great task of her future would be to rebuild the shattered fabric. It would be most unfortunate, he said, if this country were to go beyond what had been considered to be settled international law and make her own will and her own necessities judge of her actions. The plea of necessity had led to most atrocious crimes. "We come forward as the champions of international rights and the defenders of international law," said Lord Bryce, "and it would be a misfortune if we were to depart from that position."

ARMENIAN RELIEF

Persons Should Give Through the Established Sources

Editor of The Banner: It ought to be distinctly understood in the community that money given to the relief of the Armenian sufferers must go through the relief committee with headquarters in New York, of which Charles R. Crane is treasurer, or through the agency of the various missionary boards. No one is helping in this great work of humanity and charity by contributing money to an individual. Collectors for orphanages and churches, with credentials from some bishop or patriarch, and endorsed carelessly by letters of well meaning but not very worldly wise ministers, are probably not responsible persons. In some instances which are proven they are collecting on their own account. There has been a widespread fraud in this matter. Never was there such need to help as now. Poor bleeding Armenia as well as other countries, notably Belgium and Poland, but because our sympathies are deeply stirred we ought all the more to combine judgment with impulse and I see to it that we give generously through the authorized channels.

CONDITIONS AT LOS MOCHIS

Admiral Winslow to Make a Personal Investigation

Topolobampo, Mexico, Dec. 1 (by wireless to San Diego, Cal.)—Admiral Cameron Winslow, on board the cruiser San Diego, with the expeditionary force of United States marines, who arrived off this port yesterday, announced today his intention of making a personal investigation of conditions at the American colony at Los Mochis.

On account of unsettled conditions which have prevailed in the vicinity of Los Mochis, and because American refugees said the promised protection had not been afforded by the Carranza government, the Americans here have decided not to return to Los Mochis at present.

The pumping stations for the irrigation plants, it is said have not been guarded as promised and as all the lands under cultivation must be irrigated, the Americans said they would be subjected to great losses if the pumps are not put in operation shortly.

Reports just received from the interior state that 500 Yaqui Indians raided the town of Suague Grande, Sonora, November 13, and killed among others, John Lehr, an American citizen.

Rheumatism is a tormenting and stubborn malady. In some cases it yields to treatment which is without avail in other cases.

YOUTH FIRES BIRD SHOT INTO BACKS OF TWO WOMEN

Wounds Not Serious and Victims Will Recover

WAS INMATE OF REFORMATORY

Tied Legs of Cow and Feared One of the Women Would Tell Her Husband.

Holyoke, Dec. 2.—Word was received from Clinton tonight that Francis Neary, 17, of Holyoke, was being held by the police for the shooting of and wounding of two women in the town of Berlin. According to the dispatch, the youngster confessed, saying that he had shot them to prevent their "telling on him" after one of them had caught him "tying the legs of a cow."

The police records show that in 1910 Frank Neary, then 10 years old, was committed to the Lyman school as a vagrant.

Francis, or Frank, as he was better known, had worked for a woman in a town outside of Clinton after being released from the Lyman school, and she had become attached to him and kept him in a permanent position on the farm. He served two terms in the Lyman school, according to the police, for delinquency.

The women shot were Mrs. Myron S. Wheeler, aged 30, and her mother-in-law, Mrs. Elias Wheeler, aged 58, but neither is thought to be seriously hurt.

The shooting took place in the neighboring town of Berlin, where Neary has been employed on the farm of the younger Mrs. Wheeler since last spring. This morning he went into the barn and tied a cow's legs together. Mrs. Wheeler discovered this and told young Neary that she intended to tell her husband when he came home. She thought no more about the matter and went into the house.

Neary discovered an old gun standing outside the house and taking it went into the house where both women were sitting in the diningroom. He asked Mrs. Myron Wheeler if she intended to tell her husband and she said "yes." He then threatened to shoot and both women started from the room.

Reaching the kitchen they closed the door, holding it closed for a time. Neary demanded that they open the door at once as he was going to "get them," he said. In fear they did so at the same time making for a window in the hope of escaping.

Neary ran to an outside door, and as the women went by discharged the gun, which was loaded with bird shot. The shot took effect in the backs of both women.

They continued running until they reached the next farm, owned by Waldo Wheeler, where they received attention.

Neary later gave himself up to Constable Walter Cole. He was taken to Clinton this afternoon and held on a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon and will be arraigned in court tomorrow morning.

WILLIAM F. WALKER PAROLED

New Britain Bank Embezzler Released After Serving Seven Years

Hartford, Conn., Dec. 2.—William F. Walker, former treasurer of the savings bank of New Britain, who was sentenced to from 1 to 20 years in state prison for embezzlement of about $50,000 of the bank's funds, was yesterday paroled by the state board of pardons. Walker was sentenced on July 25, 1908. He has served seven years, four months and seven days, and has earned 17 months commutation by good behavior.

Walker disappeared early in February, 1906 and it was then discovered that his accounts at the bank were short $57,000. It later developed that he had also embezzled about $57,000 of the funds of the Connecticut Baptist convention, of which he was treasurer. He was arrested at Ensenada, Mex., in December, 1907, and after fighting extradition for several months was finally surrendered to the United States authorities in July, 1908. On his arraignment in the superior court in Hartford he pleaded guilty to the various allegations. The charge in connection with the Connecticut Baptist convention was not disposed of, but latterly that organization has favored his release, thinking him sufficiently punished. Walker is 69.

PEACE EXPEDITION CANNOT VISIT BELLIGERENTS

Passports to Neutral Countries Alone to Be Issued

STEAMER SAILS ON SATURDAY

Some Intending Members Will Be Barred Because Passports are Held Up.

Washington, Dec. 1.—The passport problem is likely to prove a stumbling block for many members of the Henry Ford peace expedition, according to the outlook in Washington tonight. Only a few of those contemplating the trip have filed applications for passports, and since all passports must be obtained by individual application to the state department, either personally or in writing, it does not appear tonight that it will be possible for the delegates to obtain passports in time to sail on the Oscar II, at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Some of the applications already received by the state department have been held up because they are incomplete, and it is just this sort of technicality that may interfere with passports being provided for other members of the party.

Passports for members of the Ford expedition will be issued only for those who intend to visit neutral countries. It was decided at the state department late this afternoon that passports would not be issued for members of the peace conference to enter belligerent countries. As aliens cannot enter any of the belligerent nations of Europe without passports, members of the Ford party will not be able to go to Germany, France, Italy, Russia, England, or any of the fighting nations. They may obtain passports for Norway, Sweden, Denmark and Holland.

GIRLS—DO YOU KNOW WHY YOUR HAIR IS UGLY?

It is astonishing how much good looking hair does toward producing a youthful appearance and still more astonishing to realize how much the attractiveness of the hair is affected by the care we give it.

Loving care and frequent attention are as necessary to keep a woman's hair beautiful and lustrous as is the tooth brush to keep teeth from decay.

Every woman who values the beauty of her hair as she ought to do should make it a never broken habit to frequently apply a little Parisian Sage, rubbing it briskly into her scalp with the finger tips.

Parisian Sage is Nature's modern handmaid to beautiful feminine hair. It is a simple, harmless compound of wholesome, nutritious ingredients that make an ideal lotion for nourishing both hair and scalp. It feeds and builds up the delicate hair and scalp structures making the hair soft, lustrous, brilliant and easy to dress and arrange. W. L. Gokay and many other of our best druggists sell Parisian Sage and gladly recommend its use.

SERBIANS RETAIN POSSESSION OF MONASTIR

Teutons and Bulgars Decide Not to Occupy the City

KING FERDINAND OBJECTS

Anglo-French Expedition Unable to Advance Beyond Banks of Cerna River.

Berlin, Dec. 1. (by wireless to Sayville, L. I.)—An official report given out at the Bulgarian army headquarters under the date of Nov. 29, says:

Bulgarian troops after a short and decisive engagement took Pristina and made prisoners between 16,000 and 17,000 Serbians. They also captured 50 field cannon and howitzers, 20,000 rifles, 148 automobiles, and a large amount of war material. The number of prisoners continues to increase.

The battle of Pristina, where the remnants of the Serbian army were made prisoners, will probably end the Serbian campaign.

Another Bulgarian official report, dated November 28, says:

Bulgarian troops have crossed the upper Cerna and have taken the bridges and roads which lead to Monastir.

On the southern Anglo-French front the situation is unchanged. In order to avoid mistakes, it is stated that the Anglo-French operations have been confined to the Cerna Valley. Since the arrival of Bulgarian troops, the Anglo-French forces not only have not advanced one step, but have been driven back for a distance of several kilometers.

All attempts of the Anglo-French troops to advance northwest of Cerna have failed. The left bank of the Cerna has been completely cleared of the enemy. The retreating French and Serbian troops destroyed all the bridges over the Cerna up to the mouth of the Vardar.

The Turkish war minister, Enver Pasha, is said by the Overseas News Agency to have arrived today at Sofia. He was accompanied by the Bulgarian war minister, M. Newdenow, and General Saroff.

London, Thursday, Dec. 2.—The operations in the Balkans and the movements of the armies of the Central Powers continue with unabated energy. Like Germany, Bulgaria announces that with the capture of Pristina, where 15,000 to 17,000 prisoners were taken, her campaign against Serbia has come to an end, which seems to support the suggestion that, to avoid a dispute with Greece, King Ferdinand of Bulgaria has decided against the occupation of Monastir, the only town of any importance remaining in Serbian hands. Reports to the contrary notwithstanding, Monastir was still in the hands of the Serbians late Monday night, and no news that there has been any change there has been received since.

Austria, with the assistance of some German troops, continues her operations against Montenegro, the frontier of which has been crossed, but not without considerable opposition from the Montenegrins, who are masters in mountain warfare, and who have been joined by some portions of the Serbian armies which succeeded in escaping from the invaders of their country.

There are 38 divorce cases on the docket, a slight increase over the number of the June term from which several were carried over. More will probably appear on the docket before the term opens. The list is as follows:
